have the honour to invite you to submit your paper to

The International Conference on Turkic Studies

The conference will take place from 13th to 14th November, 2025 in Warsaw, Poland

Conference Scope and Objectives

We are inviting proposals for papers and panels in the domains of language, literature, history, culture, society, and politics, and philology of the Turkic peoples. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

- Linguistics, glottodidactics, and the teaching of Turkic languages
- History and cultural studies
- Literary studies
- Political and social sciences
- Religious studies
- Postcolonial studies
- Nationalism studies
- Minority studies
- Interdisciplinary research related to the Turkic world
- Issues of identity, power structures, cultural transformations, and geopolitical challenges
- Diaspora and migration studies

The Conference serves as a platform for interdisciplinary dialogue, encouraging collaborative research and the exchange of ideas between scholars specializing in different fields of Turkic studies. We particularly aim to foster academic cooperation and strengthen international networks, facilitating joint projects, publications, and future research initiatives.

GENERAL INFORMATION

- The main language of the Conference is English.
- Paper and panel proposals (in English) of 250 to 300 words, including a short bibliography (no more than five references) and 5-8 keywords, as well as a brief biography including the author's institution, their level of study (doctoral, post-doctoral), and their research subjects should be sent to turkicconference2025@uw.edu.pl by 30 July, 2025 at the latest.
- Panels should comprise 3 or 4 papers.
- All abstracts will be subject to a review process. The results will be announced by 30 July, 2025.

- Papers should be limited to 15–20 minutes and must be presented in person by the author(s). Each session will conclude with a discussion.

PUBLICATION

The Book of Abstracts will be published online prior to the conference. Additionally, we offer an opportunity of publishing article in academic journals with which we collaborate. Publication in these journals will be subject to their specific requirements and a standard peer-review process.
